Kentucky News Cullings

An epitome of the most important events transpiring throughout the state

Owensboro—County Attorney Wilbur K. Miller has sworn out a warrant against the Indian Refining Company, charging it with polluting the Ohio River. It is alleged that its oil pipe line that crosses the Ohio river at this point is leaking, and the escaping oil is killing the fish in the river.

Mayfield—Thomas P. Anderson, 85, died here. He was an expert trainer of show horses. His wife died two weeks ago and his son three weeks ago. None knew of the others' deaths, as they were all too ill to be informed. He was the father of the late Langhorn Anderson, owner of Point Au View Stock Farm. Three daughters survive him.

Whitesburg—The Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company, who a few days ago completed their long distance transmission lines into this city from Hazard, have opened offices in the old Whitesburg Hotel building. Lines are also being extended on to Mayking, Sergeant, and Millstone to supply the several coal companies of those sections.

Lexington—Mrs. Thomas McGraw, 25, of Somerset, was brought to a hospital here from Nicholasville for treatment of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the arm and breast. She is thought to be seriously hurt, but may recover. Mrs. McGraw was visiting her mother, Mrs. Morris Dean, and shot herself with a shotgun that had been left loaded with birdshot.

Owensboro—Golda Swift, 6-year-old daughter of Wayne Swift, a prominent farmer of Whitesville vicinity, this county, was burned to a crisp when its clothing caught fire from an open grate. The mother, who had been out in a field gathering corn, discovered the horrible sight upon her return to the house. A 2-year-old infant was left with Golda, but she was not hurt.

Louisville—When Mrs. Ida Dorman, 38, wife of J. H. Dorman, a clerk in the office of Robert H. Lucas, collector of internal revenue, responded to a knock at the back door of her residence, 108 East Burnett street, she was beaten into insensibility and bound, and gagged by two burglars, who ransacked the house and escaped with clothing and jewelry estimated by police to be worth $3,500.

Frankfort—Sheriffs in a number of counties are making the mistake of assuming that a 1922 act extends their time for making their final settlements one month. Assistant State Auditor Arthur Doyle said. A number of sheriffs have made inquiry about it and he has informed them that the penalty for delinquent taxpayers goes on December 1 and sheriffs must settle by December 31.

Hopkinsville—A campaign to increase the membership of the Farm Bureau and interest in that organization and its aims, has been put on in Christian County. The Farm Bureau here never attained the membership desired. It has done a fine work in buying supplies and selling products for its members and has thrown its influence behind many movements looking to the upbuilding of the town and country.

Lexington—Asserting that their constitutional rights were being infringed upon, four Lexington banks, the Fayette National Bank, the Second National Bank, the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, and the Bank of Commerce, filed suit in the Fayette County Circuit Court against Sheriff Howell Cawthart, asking that he be restrained from collecting taxes upon certain property which they asserted should be exempt from taxation.

Henderson—The body of a man found floating in the Ohio river here on September 21, has been identified as that of William Keith from a knife and two rings taken from the body. Thomas Hall and Guy Bond told Coroner Crawley that the articles belonged to Keith. Bond said that Keith had worked for him during the summer and when last seen he had about $400. He believes that Keith was murdered for his money and thrown into the river.

Hopkinsville—Said to have been running at high speed, an automobile carrying five negroes coming in East Seventh street, hit an electric light pole, breaking it in three pieces. This headed the car across the street and it went unattended, and it jumped off an embankment six feet high, and plunged under the residence of J. T. Forbes, the building being several feet off the ground. One of the pillars of the house was torn down and the front of the car demolished, but none of the occupants were hurt seriously.

Wmingsburg—Elisha Watson was fined $500 in Judge Clarke's court and given thirty days in jail for having and selling moonshine liquor.

Hazard—Four persons narrowly escaped instant death at Sergeant, Leitcher County, when the automobile driven by Edgar Lucas, in which were three other occupants, was struck by an L. & N. freight train. The body of Miss Leticia Williams was thrown upon the cowcatcher and carried a hundred yards before the train could be brought to a standstill.

Cadiz—Good progress is being made in work on the Trigg County court house. The new building will be completed and ready for the next term of Court, which meets the fourth Monday in January.

Hopkinsville—The position of office manager for the headquarters here of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Protective Association, has been filled by the appointment by the executive committee of S. S. Stitt, of Henderson, expert accountant, and connected with various lines of business there.

Bowling Green—Dr. Emery G. Dent appeared before the meeting of the Bowling Green Rotary Club and informed the members that he had two gifts, one for $500 from the Franklin Rotary Club, Franklin, Ky., and $300 given by Otto Seelbach, of Louisville, for the Dixie Highway in Edmonson County.

Frankfort—Gabe Wharten, of Springfield, today was appointed a member of the State Efficiency Commission created by the 1922 session of the General Assembly. The appointment was made by Governor Morrow to fill the vacancy created when John W. Barr, Jr., of Louisville declined to serve.

Princeton—While hunting, Dick Boyd, of the Lewistown section, was the victim of an accident which may cost him the sight of one eye. He was hunting with his nephew, Charley Boyd, who shot at a rabbit. One shot struck a rock and, glancing off, struck Boyd in the right eye. Temporary blindness was caused.

Fort Thomas—Charles B. Truesdell, 30, state representative from Campbell County, was expected to recover from injuries sustained when he was struck by a switch engine at the railroad station here. Truesdell, who received a fractured skull and multiple bruises, was struck while standing on the tracks waiting for a passenger train. It was said.

Louisville—Two persons are dead and two others hovered between life and death at the City Hospital as a result of an automobile in which they were returning to the city from a roadhouse, overturning in front of 3183 South Third street. The dead are: Alex Johnson, 35, 123 South Campbell street, former proprietor of a soft drink stand and driver of the machine, instantly killed.

Jackson—Sam Grigsby, 42, was sentenced to life imprisonment on a charge of killing Jesse Noble, 20, during an altercation following the primary election two years. The men met on Lost Creek after the primary and during an argument Grigsby is said to have shot and killed Noble. The jury was out most of the night. Two former trials resulted in hung juries. Grigsby's claim was self-defense.

Louisville—Kentuckians who left the "Old Kentucky Home" to seek fortune in other parts of the country will be welcomed back to the scene of their childhood at a monster homecoming celebration, historical pageant and industrial exposition to be held in Louisville during the week of June 16 to 22, 1924. Dates for the celebration were fixed by members of the homecoming committee at a meeting in Mayor Quinn's office at the City Hall.

Bowling Green—A 250-acre farm located at Rocky Hill, this county, and owned by Robert Crump, Sr., was sold by the Potter-Matlock Trust Company, in three tracts. J. W. Whobery, of Sunnyside, this county, bought the home place and 115 acres for $5,730; Alex Cooke, 76 acres, $1,970; C. A. Potteet, 52 acres, $1,450, or a grand total of $9,150. Mrs. Crump obtained a divorce and $10,000 alimony from Crump at the recent term of Warren Circuit Court.

Owensboro—George Bright Hawes, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bright Hawes, died from injuries before he reached the City Hospital as a result of falling from a stable loft at his home ten miles from Owensboro. The young child, after the accident, walked to the house and complained of being ill, but could not tell his mother the nature of his injury. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Hawes started to Owensboro with the child, but he died en route to the city as a result of concussion of the brain.

Danville—Mitchell Meal, 26, of Onelda, Tenn., was held up, robbed, shot and killed about two miles south of here by three negroes, who placed his body across the rails of the Southern Railway, apparently with the expectation that a passing train would obliterate evidence of the murder. The tragedy occurred in broad daylight and within sight of Walter Miller's farm house. Miller heard the shots and saw the negroes fleeing. He investigated and found Meal lying across the rails with a bullet wound in his forehead.

Bowling Green—Huttee Hawkins, 65, farmer, while cutting a limb from a tree on his farm near Cedar Springs, Edmonson County, was instantly killed when the limb fell on his head. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Lella Perdue.

Whitesburg—Four prisoners escaped from the Whitesburg jail by prying a hole in the stone wall of the building. They were pursued, however, and three of the men were captured. This was the fourth jail delivery within a year.

"Twas the Night before Christmas"

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN
CHRISTMAS EVE the students of the General Theological seminary in New York City, the largest training school for the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church, will gather in their dining hall and with appropriate ceremonies will wreath holly about an old portrait that hangs on the wall.

The portrait is that of Clement Clark Moore (1793-1863), a founder of the seminary who gave it the whole book known as Chelston's. Moreover, from 1821 to 1850 he was the professor of Biblical learning and was professor emeritus from then until his death. And in addition he compiled a "Hebrew and English Lexicon" (1890), the first to be published in this country. This notable scholar and dignified theological professor was born in New York City, the grandson of Maj. Thomas Clark, a retired officer of the British army, and son of the Rt. Rev. Benjamin Moore, third president of Columbia university and second bishop of New York. He studied for the ministry, but was not ordained.

Christmas morning, at 9:30 o'clock, several hundred Sunday school children—maybe as many as a thousand—will march from the new Chapel of the Intercession in New York City with trumpeters and banners, singing Christmas carols as they go, and lay a great wreath on a tomb in famous old Trinity cemetery. This tomb is that of this same grave and reverend professor of Biblical learning and compiler of a Hebrew lexicon. And this memorial celebration is now a feature of Christmas day.

It is likely that this Christmas the theological students and the Sunday school children will add special features to their memorial celebration. For Clement Clark Moore is, as everybody should know, the man who wrote "Twas the Night before Christmas" and this Christmas season is the centennial of the writing of the poem that has gone around the world and is the delight of children wherever Santa Claus is known. Of course there are lots of people who do not know who wrote it. And that's because it has become so much a part of our Christmas tradition and literature that it never occurs to them that it had an author. It's like Mother Goose, you know.

On December 23, 1823, the Troy (N. Y.) printed the now famous poem with the title, "A Visit From St. Nicholas." The name of the author was not given.

The jolly little man met with instant appreciation. Other newspapers published it. City after city all over the country copied it. It was published in magazines. Next it went into the public school readers. Then came special editions of the poem, illustrated by artists who had made a name by their pictures for children. Finally it was translated into many languages. Now it may be heard almost all over the world.

And all this time the name of the author was unknown. The fact is that Professor Moore was not exactly pleased over the publication of the poem, and its world-wide popularity caused him to shrink from claiming its authorship.

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS

By CLEMENT C. MOORE
T'WAS the night before Christmas, when all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads.
And mama in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap—
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow
Gave a luster of midday to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donder and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch to the top of the wall!
Now dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the couriers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys—and St. Nicholas, too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes, how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a little round belly
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump—a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed, when I saw him, in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight:
"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

A MODERN KRISS KRINGLE
By HAROLD BARNES
Kris Kringle laughs with a merry glee:
"I'll foot the children this year," says he;
"They think I am coming with deer and sleigh,
And jingle of bells, in the same old way."
"But I'll do it," he says, with a knowing wink,
As he opens his hangar—and what do you think?
There stands in its shed like a waiting train
The finest brand of an airplane.
Shining and gleaming and new and spry—
Just made to order for Old St. Nick.

FIRST SLEIGH RIDE

Little Eugene wanted a Christmas treat more than anything else.

"I would rather take a sleigh ride than anything else," he said.

Now, as you can imagine, little Eugene had never lived in the country, for to take a sleigh ride is lots of fun but not just the very most special treat that most boys would ask for.

First of all there was the chance that there might not be snow, but snow came in plenty of time. And it was with joy that little Eugene looked at the snow-covered hills and the snow on the ground, which was becoming smooth and nice.

"It will seem more like Christmas than anything else," he said.

And the first time he heard sleigh bells he went almost wild with delight. "I hear them," he cried. "I hear them."

Now little Eugene was visiting in the country, but the people whom he was visiting did not own a horse and sleigh. They were going to do their best to see that he had a sleigh ride though.

And on the afternoon before Christmas Eugene was given his first sleigh ride.

Such a ride as it was, too! The trees were covered with snow for the most part, though the hemlocks had very little upon them.

For when the snow had been falling the hemlocks had been shaking about in their usual graceful fashion and the snow had not been able to cling to them.

The sun made the snow sparkle until a little later bright colors came in the sky and the sun went to bed dressed in his holiday suit of red. Eugene was sure he had put it on for the holidays and so he had, though Mr. Sun was also in the habit of wearing that red suit of his when he gave a birthday party which he did very often.

At either side of the sleigh there were bells attached and how they did jingle. And coming down the road behind them, all along the road, was another sleigh which made a sleigh-bell dust of jingles!

Sometimes where the snow had drifted brown patches of grass could be seen, but mostly everything was covered with snow. In the brooks and streams they passed there were ice and snow. Everything looked so nice and winter-like and so different from the city. Eugene loved it all.

"So Nice and Winter-Like."

It certainly was a treat. And Dolly, the horse, was very anxious to show Eugene that she would make it as much of a treat as she could.

She had heard him say that there would be sugar at the end of the ride and there had been sugar at the start of the ride. Oh yes, Dolly had some sugar.

So Dolly shied at an automobile which, of course, she never did as a rule. But she thought it would be fun to do this for the little city boy. Little city boys did think such funny things sometimes. Dolly had heard some of the questions they asked when they came to the farm.

And Dolly even pretended to be a little frightened at the train when it hurried by!

The sleigh was called a cutter and what fun it was to ride so close to the ground and what a crisp, pleasant sound it made when it hurried along, pulled by Dolly, the horse.

They passed by a well which was used by everyone in one small village. A community well it was called and little Eugene was surprised to hear that it didn't freeze. He had heard that plumbers were always busy in the country fixing pipes which had frozen.

But it was explained to him that it was so deep in the earth it couldn't freeze and that the water drained back after it had been pumped. Oh no, that well never froze.

But little Eugene almost did. And oh, how glad he was to get back to the fire again.

He had had a perfect Christmas treat, though, and he left a note for Santa Claus by the chimney that night, for he knew Santa would like to hear of the treat of his first sleigh ride—his great Christmas treat!

Not Homesick.

"Don't you ever get homesick?" "No," replied Senator Sorghum. "After being heckled a few times by my constituents I'm perfectly satisfied to reside in Washington, D. C."—Washington Star.

LET'S BUILD OUR OWN SCHOOL.

"Think big and your deed will grow,
Think small and'll fall behind.
Think that you can and you will,
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you are outclassed, you are.
You have got to think high to rise.
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the strongest or fastest man,
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can."

—M. McGrath.

West Liberty has demonstrated that when she depends upon her own efforts she succeeds. We can have one of the best schools in the mountains if we will do even a part of what we did in fighting for the normal school, and, a good school for the grades and high school will do Morgan county more good than the normal would have done. By preparing adequate buildings for a graded and high school we can have a better attendance than Morehead can hope for with the normal.

Let's get to work and put up a sufficient amount of money to erect ample school buildings and we will get the attendance. It is said that the Rockefeller Foundation is willing to make a liberal contribution and we can easily do the rest. Four years high school is under the law equivalent to normal training and when it is known that this will answer we will get the pupils.

We don't have to depend upon "fixed" Commissions. We can have a school through our own efforts if we will but realize it and go confidently to work to do it. Let's get busy and do it.

THE GARRETT HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION.

The Courier is rather insistent that the citizens of the counties to be traversed by the Garrett Highway organize to work for the earliest possible completion of the said highway. Johnson, Magoffin, Morgan, Menefee, Montgomery, Clark, Bourbon and Fayette counties are vitally interested in the speedy completion of this road. It is the natural outlet for the upper Big Sandy valley as well as the upper Licking valley to the central part of the State, and will be one of the most important highways in the State. Owing to the high freight rates on the railroads the tonnage that will be hauled by trucks will be tremendous, and the passenger traffic and private cars that will go over the road will make it one of the most traveled roads in the State.

The Association ought to be formed at once so that the fight for the early completion of the road can be at all times kept up. By the various counties joining in an organization we can keep our claims constantly before the highway commission, have representatives present, and if necessary, the organization could take up the work of raising more money if some extra work is deemed advisable. It could see to the proper marking of the highway and assist the various counties in securing the rights of way, and do much to keeping that enthusiasm for the very best roads alive.

Let's get together and complete the road by 1925.

"KENTUCKY'S OUTSTANDING DISGRACE."

The Kentucky Anti Race Track Gambling Commission has issued a booklet of the above title, and it is replete with facts concerning the race track legalized gambling. It is a disgrace to the State that it would deliberately write into its statutes a law legalizing gambling, but that is not the worst of it. The race track gamblers use their ill-gotten money to build up a dangerous and sinister political machine that is corrupting the State. It is donating vast sums of money to the State in order to postpone the inevitable revolt of the people against legalized gambling. These gifts are, in their very nature, corrupting, for they are intended as wholesale bribes—bribes to both officers and people of the State. Gamblers are not philanthropists. They do not give their soiled money away for the pure love of giving. They expect returns on all they give.

But the battle line is not going to be wholly on the moral phase of the gambling privilege. The Jockey Club has made it necessary for all the moral forces in the State to join to contest its assumption of the right to control the legislation of the Commonwealth. It is a question as to whether the people or the race track gamblers are going to direct the destinies of Kentucky. The issue is well defined and it is forced by the gamblers themselves. Their gifts to the State are not going to longer detract attention from the sin of their existence.

It may not be at this coming session of the Legislature, but sooner or later the outraged sense of right will assert itself, and legalized gambling will go.

Now that other things are not so prominent in the minds of the people we should turn our attention to the County Achievement Contest that was inaugurated a few months ago. We have a splendid opportunity to win $3,000.00 by doing the very things that will help us most to do. A partial organization has been affected, but little team work has been done. A few lines of the work has been pushed, but several of the activities provided for in the plan have not been started. Let's see Chairman W. M. Gardner and all get busy and win the prize, and at the same time vastly benefit the county.

The three Ballard appointees on the Normal Commission can console themselves with the thought that if they were unable to secure the school for Paintsville they were able to give it to Morehead.

class of merchandise I handle.

Come in and see.

We are getting in new goods almost daily. You will find something new every time you come in.

Sincerely,
D. R. KEETON.

AGAIN we desire to repeat that we favor a subsidy for country newspapers, and urge our Congressman to offer it as an amendment to the ship subsidy bill.

Judging from the utterances of his home town paper, Willie Wallen is not a hero at home.

Facial Blemishes

Sallow, muddy, roughened or blotched complexion are usually due to constipation.

When you are constipated, the impurities of the blood are forced to the face to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it cleans the blood, purifies the skin and thus replaces it.

Nujol is a lubricant, not a laxative.

Contractor Has Gained 30 Lbs. on Tanlac

"Tanlac fixed me up so I gained thirty pounds. I have never seen or heard of such a wonderful medicine in all the sixty-six years of my life," declared William Magee, well-known retired contractor, 3840 Lafayette Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

"About two years ago I had a severe bladder trouble that left me in an awfully run-down condition. My appetite went back on me and my stomach got so weak I could not eat and digest enough to give me any strength. I also had the worst sort of pains across the small of my back, and could not sleep.

"I began picking up soon after I started taking Tanlac, and now I have a fine appetite, sleep like a log and that tired, worn-out feeling has all left me. I could not do otherwise than recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

Not That Kind of a Suit.

Hardy Upton (trying on a new suit)

—Ah, Isaac, this suit looks very creditable—very creditable indeed.

Isaac, the tailor (excitedly)—Dot suit never lends der shop except for ready money!

If You Need a Medicine

You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten?

The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine.

A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

HAD PICKED IT UP QUICKLY

Film Magnate Astonished by Australian Knowledge of the English Language.

The predominance of the foreign element in New York is the subject of many jokes. At a motion picture luncheon to the press the other day, as Tommy Gray, one of the city's wits, arose to speak, he looked about.

"As this luncheon is to the press," he began, "and not to the motion picture trade, I will make my remarks in English."

Somewhat along this same line is a joke that is being told on one of the most important of the film magnates, who is supposed to be illiterate. Two Australians, stranded in New York, in search of jobs, managed to get an audience with him.

"So," he said, "you're from Australia? When did you come over?"

"Only a month ago," they answered.

"My," he exclaimed, "but you learned our language quick."

Wrong Pocket.

Clothed in the customary sack suit, he was fortunate enough to obtain a seat in the subway the other morning.

As he put his hand into an inside coat pocket to get his glasses he missed them, but drew out instead a large pipe.

"Beautiful pipe, isn't it?" said the gentleman sitting next to him.

"Yes," he answered, "but it isn't mine. I never saw it before and can't imagine how it got into my pocket."

"It didn't," the other smiled. "You took it from my pocket."—New York Times.

The Tonic.

Mrs. Smith (thoughtfully)—I'm afraid I shall have to stop giving Tommy that tonic the doctor left for him.

Mr. Smith (anxiously)—Why, isn't he any better?

Mrs. Smith—Oh, yes. But he has slid down the banisters six times this morning, broken the hall lamp, two vases, a pitcher and a looking glass, and I don't feel as if I could stand much more.

Indication of Guilt.

"Did you get any evidence on that soft drink dealer?"

"I did as you told me," said the dry agent. "I asked him for ginger ale and winked my left eye."

"And then?"

"He hit me over the head with an empty pop bottle."

"That's pretty strong evidence that he had something on his conscience, but I'm afraid it won't be accepted in a court of law."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Always Planning Ahead.

"I can count on one of the greatest votes ever given a favorite son," remarked Senator Sorghum, as he scribbled on the back of an envelope.

"In fact, it will be a veritable landslide."

"You have had some serious opposition in this election."

"I'm not talking about this election. It's practically over. I'm talking about next election."—Washington Star.
